Story Summary: This wonderful written book is about a motherless boy named Ernie, a troubled girl named Swimming Pool and artistic shy boy named Dusty. These three people meet during a great money making idea. Ernie thought of, pet funerals! Swimming Pool had the job of crying for the dead pets, Dusty had the job of designing the burial boxes, and managing the funerals and Ernie was the boss. Business goes great until Swimming Pool demands her promised raise. Ernie denies he ever promised a raise and then...Swimming Pool quits.

Review: I loved this book. This book was full of emotions and great lessons to learn about friendship. I highly recommend this book to any reader. I just love this wonderful book!
